Skiers Model Snow Garb At Legion Hall

Ad Frat to Sponsor
Fashion Show Tonight;
SJS Ski Team Stars

A ski and after-ski clothes fashion show will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock in the American Legion hall, 325 N. Third street, according to Mrs. Jackie Castner, president of the sponsoring group, Gamma Alpha Chi.

Gamma Alpha Chi is the new National and Professional Women's Advertising fraternity, and this will be their first quarterly project for the benefit of San Jose State students. Arrangements have been made to have Marv Braunstein as master of ceremonies, and to have Ed Marchok play the piano for background music.

Members of San Jose State sororities and fraternities, as well as members of the college ski team will model the clothes, which will include what the well dressed skier will wear on the slopes, as well as what he, or she, will wear in the lodge after the day's skiing.

Rain Fails to Stop Gym Construction

The second rainfall of the season has caused no damage or unnecessary delay in work on the new Women's gym, according to word received from the Women's P.E. department.

"Work must be delayed on rainy days," said Mrs. Lenore N. Luedemann, department secretary, "but emergencies such as this have been considered by the contractor."

Reports from the college engineer's office were re-assuring as to damage on campus grounds. "A nice gentle rain such as this doesn't bother us at all," Engineer Vic Jensen said. "We're worried about the big storms that will come later on his season."

57 A Phi Os Attend Anniversary Party

Fifty-seven members of Alpha Phi Omega attended a dinner party Tuesday night to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the organization on Washington Square.

Dick Marquiss, publicity chairman of the national service fraternity, said that the dinner was "very successful." Dick Irons made arrangements for the affair.

Mr. Rocci Pisano, faculty adviser, claimed honors as being the only charter member present at the celebration. Also attending were faculty advisers Dr. H. M. Clark and Mr. E. W. Clements.

Ed Burnham, president of the fraternity, presented the after-dinner address.

Dean West Speaks

"What Is a Dean of Personnel and Guidance," was the topic of an address given yesterday at the December meeting of the American Association of University Professors by Dean Joe West.

In the AAUP election which followed the address, Dr. Harrison Heath, professor of psychology, was re-elected association chairman.

Portal to Auction Articles To Aid Asilomar Delegates

By BERKLEY BAKER

Dee Portal, tutor of Spartan boxing champs, will champion another cause Thursday, Dec. 15, when he acts as auctioneer for the Student Y Asilomar auction.

Purpose of the rally is to raise funds to help delegates who will attend the Pacific Southwest Regional conference of the Student YMCA-YWCA to be held at Asilomar, Dec. 26 through Jan. 1.

Mr. Portal, in his abbreviated role of Barker, will have a chance to sell a variety of articles from foodstuffs to furniture.

Objects to be auctioned are now being solicited by a Student Y committee. But, according to Helen Davis, publicity chairman of the organization, the Y will turn over to Mr. Portal and his selling ability, practically anything and everything donated.

Faculty members, their wives and student living groups will be the main objects of solicitors. However, individuals and living groups not contacted are encouraged to donate items at the Student Y lounge, 220 S. Seventh street.

The auction will be held in room S-12 at 7:30 p.m.

SJS Courses Being Surveyed

A two day survey of SJS courses related to civil service employment will be completed today by Mr. George W. Bemis, coordinator of training for government service, from Sacramento State college.

Mr. Bemis has been studying the relationship of courses in California State colleges to civil service employment.

Fields which Mr. Bemis is studying here include social service, municipal government, sanitation work, nursing, and women's P.E. as it relates to recreational programs.

He is making the survey under authority of the state department of education at Sacramento.

Krasna's Hit Goes on Boards For Five Nights

By HELEN DAVIS

"John Loves Mary," Norman Krasna's recent Broadway hit, will have its initial performance on the San Jose State college campus tonight when the play opens in the Little Theatre at 8:15 o'clock, for a five night run under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Loeffler.

Starring in the title roles are Joan Buechner and Don Pearlman, both senior Speech and Drama majors.

Antics that go on after John returns from overseas as the husband of his best buddy's Eng-

Psych Exams Set

The comprehensive Psychology examination, a requirement for entrance into graduate study in psychology, will be given Friday, Dec. 9, in room 116. The examination will last for three hours beginning at 1:30 p.m.

It is for psychology majors and graduate students who desire entrance into graduate study in psychology.

lish girl friend, make up the plot of the play.

Conflict arises when it is discovered that: 1) John married the girl only to get her into this country as the bride of a GI. He plans a quick divorce from her so she can marry his best buddy—and so John can marry Mary; 2) His best buddy has since forgotten the English romance, has married an American girl, and is now an expectant father; 3) Mary is eager for a quick marriage to John, for whom she has waited more than two years.

Bill Funnell will play Fred, the overseas buddy; Gwen Samuelson will do Lily, the English girl friend; Mat Pelto is Senator James McKinley; Evelyn McCurdy, Mrs. McKinley; Cliff Roche, Lt. Victor O'Leary, a former Army officer who is ushering at a local theatre.

Stanley Schwimmer will portray Harwood Biddle; Jack Byers, George Beechwood; Warren Blomseth, Oscar Dugan.

The set was designed by Mr. J. Wendell Johnson. It is a spacious apartment living room in the St. Regis hotel, New York.

Costumes were done by Miss Berneice Prisk. "John Loves Mary" is done in modern dress.

Student stage manager is Robert Scruggs, and members of the crew are Jim Clark, electrician; Ron Sego, properties, and Dick Jones, sound. Technical directors are Mr. James Lioi and Mr. Douglas Morrisson.

Some tickets still are available for the performance of the play, which will be presented tonight, tomorrow, Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings. (Dec. 8, 9, 10, 12, and 13).

Frosh Nominees!

Freshman class officer nominees may have their election platforms run in the Spartan Daily, if they will come to the Daily office between 2-4 p.m. today.

Spartans' First 'Town Meeting' Is Tonight

Offers Chance
For Students
To Air Gripes

By JACK RUSSELL

A chance for the ordinary student at San Jose State to present his views and complaints is the purpose of the first "town hall" meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Although every campus organization will be represented at the session, the main purpose is to get the students without any fraternal affiliation to have their say.

To Discuss "Dead Week"

Any topic of school interest may be brought up at the session, declared Chairman Don Schaeffer. "Dead Week" and the "alcoholic by-laws" will serve to get things going.

The "town hall" meeting takes the place of the traditional "Gripe Dinners" which went out of existence in a blaze of controversy in 1947. The Spartan Daily editorialized bitterly against the "few students who sat around at the Hawaiian Gardens over a $2.50 meal and put the finger on one or two individuals who had crossed them."

From these dinners came the hotly-disputed question of whether San Jose State was getting its money's worth as far as publicity went. Publicity Director "Chuck" Mallory was called before the Student Council for investigation. The matter was dropped after two weeks of hard feelings.

Last Session Was in '47

The last such session was held May, 1947, in the Inner Quad. Two portable microphones were used to allow a free expression of opinions from all present. One of the matters brought up was the use of advertising space in the Spartan Daily.

Chairman Schaeffer hopes that the "town hall" meeting will become a regular part of Spartan school life. The vice-presidents of the four classes will serve as moderators for future sessions.

UP ROUNDUP

U. S. Will Ignore Chinese Commies

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has announced that the U.S. is not considering the recognition of the Chinese Communist government at this time. A London source said that Britain's recognition of the Communist regime may come next week.

Thomas G. Lanphier Jr., a World War II ace, set a new round-the-world flight record by commercial air lines when he circled the globe in 119 hours and 47 minutes. The flight was to commemorate the 46th anniversary of the first flight by the Wright brothers.

The French army, largest force available for immediate defense of Europe under the Atlantic Pact, has begun a shakeup in its top ranks. This is believed to be part of a plan to speed up reorganization of French ground forces.

Get Shot Today

Influenza shots will be given at the Health office, room 31, this morning starting at 11:30, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, department head. Students who signed registration sheets are reminded that they must present ASB cards to receive the vaccination, she stated.

Torrid Tones to Sound In Coming Jazz Concert

Student Band Will Compete
With 'Dixieland' Pros Friday Night

By FRED BAUMBERGER

A series of jazz concerts of interest to campus jazz enthusiasts will bring various student musical groups to the same band stand with professional performers and provide some interesting comparisons during the next few months.

Frank Fuller, a Spartan public relations major and promoter for the concerts, will begin the series Friday, when two dixieland jazz bands, one consisting of San Jose State students and another consisting of professional performers, will appear on the same artists will appear on the same program at a local ballroom.

The student band, the "Gem City Jazz Band", which has appeared at several campus rallies, includes the following San Jose State students: Darrell Graves, trumpet; John Hillman, trombone; Jim Canavero, piano; Tom Reynolds, drums; Bob Bell, tuba and bass; Karl Bruhn, clarinet.

The professional group, Bob Scobey's "Alexander Jazz Band", has appeared extensively in both Los Angeles and the San Francisco bay area.

At a later concert Fuller plans to bring the progressive jazz and bop improvisations of Dave Brubeck and orchestra to San Jose to appear on the same bandstand with Boyd Johnson's Spartan campus progressive jazz group.

Johnson has been priming his group with several new arrangements in the progressive jazz idiom since his appearance at the Fresno State-San Jose State exchange rally.

"Presentation of these concerts," said Fuller, "should serve as a convincing indication of the high calibre of local musicianship."

Spinners to Hold Christmas Party

Swirling Spartan Spinners will gather at Washington grammar school, Oak and State streets, tonight for the annual Christmas party, according to Jack Golden, club representative. The party is sponsored by the advanced Spartan Spinner group.

Open to all college folk dancers, the party will get under way at 7:30 o'clock and continue through 10:30 p.m., Golden explained. Students with and without transportation are requested to meet at the Fourth street entrance to the Science building at 7:15 p.m., he said.

Dr. Clarice Wills, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. Carl D. Duncan will be guests of honor at the party. Refreshments will be in charge of Jeanne Swithenby and Betty Naylor.

The party tonight will act as a "warmer up for the Gay Nighters Christmas party tomorrow night at Roosevelt junior high school," Golden stated. The Gay Nighters is the adult education folk dancing group.

'Will Christ Reign?' Is Speech Topic

Mr. Fulton Lytell, director of Mt. Hermon conference grounds, will speak at the Collegiate Christian Fellowship meeting today at 12:45 p.m. in room 124.

Mr. Lytell's subject will be, "Will Christ Reign?"

Mount Hermon, located near Felton in the Santa Cruz mountains, is the largest Christian conference grounds in the west.

Students and faculty are invited to attend, Stan Ekstrand, CCF president, said.

Delta Phi Delta Welcomes Pledges at Ceremonies

Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity, welcomed the largest pledge class in its history at special ceremonies held Dec. 5, according to George Muro, president of the group.

The informal initiation was followed by an evening of entertainment for members and pledges. Formal initiation has been scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 17.

Those pledging the fraternity are: Barbara Moore, Anne Barquist, Anita Lewis, John Rowland, J. Savage Wildman, Nat D. Fast, Raymond Davis, Bob Gudy, Bob Thomson, LaVonne Waldrif, Melba Sills, Pat Anthony, Lil Dimphl, Harry Powers, Joseph C. Bragdon, and Calvin Mack.

Muro said that the group still has several prints from the Prairie Print Makers of Chicago available for student purchase.

Engineering Group Sponsors Smoker

The Engineering society will sponsor a smoker tonight at Willow Glen Legion hall, 37 Devine street, according to George Cashman, publicity.

All student engineers are invited to attend. A speaker and films will be on the entertainment agenda.

Spartans Trounce Gaels Before Jam-Packed House

Inman Leads Spartans in Scoring;
Top Honors Go to Joe Thurston

By WADE WILSON

Revenge was sweet for Walt McPherson and his gang of basketballers as they trounced the St. Mary's Gaels last night in Spartan gymnasium, 58-43, before a capacity crowd of over 2200. Both he and Benny Neff, coach of the Gaels, swept their benches of reserves before the contest ended.

San Jose started like a slow boat to China, but caught fire in the second half to outplay St. Mary's to a standstill. Center Stu Inman, held to four points in the first half, got his eye on the bucket and tanked 13 points in the second half.

Chuck Crampton, guard, was held scoreless in the first half, but came back in the second half and rattled the rim for eight points.

High scoring for the evening went to Center Joe Thurston of the Gaels who tossed in 11 points in the first half and tallied another seven in the last half. The Gaels couldn't seem to get started. San Jose picked them up as they came down the court and blanketed them to stop their scoring threat.

High-jumping Bob Crowe put San Jose back into the ball game in the closing seconds of the first half — they were trailing 22-25 — with a driving layin shot down the center. He was fouled in the process and added the charity toss to knot the score with just seconds to play. The first half ended with the score tied at 25-all.

Look Like a Team

The Spartans looked like the team that ended the season last year in the second half. They were setting up their plays good and passing the ball around with the finesse of a finished team. With only three games under their belts, the McPherson-coached lads appear in mid-season form. Had the team played as they did last night against the Stanford Indians last week, the Spartans would be on the winning side of three games. They started off by spanking the NIT champions, the USF Dons, in their opener, but fell to the old plague of the cracker box gym at Stanford and lost to the Indians.

The game was well played with comparatively few fouls called on either side. Both teams opened slow and the score after seven minutes found the Gaels, leading 7-6. St. Mary's led during the first half until Crowe tied it up. Only a few points separated the teams the entire first half.

Don McCaslin tossed in a free throw to start the scoring in the second period only to have Augie Bullwinkel flip in an under-the-basket shot to put the Gaels in the lead. Thurston added a free throw for the Gaels to give them 28 points and their last lead in the ball game.

Daily Writer Gives Views on Stanford Basketball Game

By GEORGE McDONALD

SJS and Stanford undergraduates were disgusted with the small Indian gym, the free admission, and the fact that the gates were closed at 7:20 . . . the game was poor, both teams making innumerable early-season errors . . . the Indians had no right to win, but they did . . . the Spartans had no right to win either, but they might have . . . Yardley was stopped cold for about as long as Matson was . . . the Spartans could get only single shots in the second half . . . SJS has not made a tip-in this season . . . Chavalas' fancy antics, learned in eight years of basketball, fooled nobody . . . Walsh, a sophomore forward who looked like a bum against COP, won the game for the Indians . . . Gelbert's sore ankle slowed down the Big Red's fast break . . . San Jose erred in the first half by trying to outrance the Indians, who had the reserves . . . McCaslin did not feel well and asked McPherson to take him out . . . Don took some shots in the first half that he should not have taken . . . on the other hand Wuesthoff and Crampton did not shoot enough . . . "Chucker", still a trifle weak under the boards, made five excellent field goals . . . it hurt when he slipped going for a cinch set-up, for the Indians immediately scored . . . the Spartans might have pulled away in the first half — but they were almost as cold as the Indians . . . Crowe played the whole game for SJS . . . he covers the court like a blanket, and looked good with a driving layup just when the Indians were getting hot . . . as soon as the gun sounded, Crowe congratulated Yardley . . . the Spartans missed several good three-on-two opportunities in the second half — it's too bad that Enzensberger or Romero couldn't have played, for McPherson had to insert Lovell, just off the Frosh . . . the dazed guard scored three points, but also let two Indians race by him for important layups . . .

SECOND GUESS OF THE GAME . . . why did McPherson use Morgan when he knew that Junior was not ready to play basketball . . . he got four fouls called on him right off the bat, and couldn't shoot at all . . . Giles, who had a little experience at center earlier in pre-season practice, might have been a better choice . . . Inman again played a brainy game, once calling the ref's attention to an Indian who liked to hold his wrist . . . Crampton might have won the game for the Spartans by getting free for more long ones in the second half . . . the Indians got dumped by the Spartans the last time they came to Spartan gym . . . that was three years ago — they haven't been back since . . .

SJ Matmen Meet Olympic Clubbers

San Jose's wrestlers take on the strong Olympic club in their first dual meet of the season in San Francisco Friday night. The Olympic club downed San Jose in the Portola tournament last Saturday. The club scored 49 points to win the meet, San Jose grabbed 36, and University of California took third with 23.

The Spartans should do all right in collegiate wrestling this year. They have excellent men in all the weights. Coach Ted Mumby ran elimination bouts yesterday afternoon to decide who shall go to Frisco.

The complete schedule follows:

Dec. 9—San Francisco Olympic club at San Francisco
Jan. 10—San Francisco State at San Jose
Jan. 28—North Cal. Junior at Berkeley
Feb. 1—San Diego State at S.J.
Feb. 3—Stanford at Stanford
Feb. 4—California Poly at S.J.
Feb. 10—SJS Novice at S.J.
Feb. 17—Stanford at San Jose
Feb. 24—San Francisco State at S.F.S.
Feb. 25—UCLA at San Jose
Mar. 3 and 4—Far Western at Oakland.
March 9 and 10—PCI at Berkeley
Mar. 17 and 18—U. of Cal. at S.J.
Mar. 24 and 25—NCAA at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

YMI Next SJS Cage Foe

The Spartans play their last game before the Los Angeles Invitational this Friday night against the YMI of San Francisco. St. Mary's and Santa Clara have taken YMI so far this season, the latter school by a convincing 74-56 margin.

How future basketball opponents are doing: Hamline, 63; Morningside, 32. San Diego State, 54; Tempe State, 36.
